Incontinence Management Support

Many people experience bladder control problems at some stage of their life. It can affect men, women and children of all ages.

There are various ways of managing this condition to enable you to live the life you love! We recommend you consult with your doctor or a continence nurse/clinic to understand options that may be helpful such as exercise, diet and fluid intake or perhaps even medication.

The most common type of leakage is called stress incontinence. This is the loss of small amounts of urine during physical movement such as coughing, sneezing, laughing or exercising. Sometimes after certain types of surgery this condition may be experienced.

Our innovative range of re-usable products will assist in managing all types of incontinence in a discreet, comfortable and cost-effective way.

The Conni Story

Conni has been Australia's leading brand of re-usable incontinence management products for more than 12 years. Our team has a collective of 60 plus years experience in the design and manufacture of technical textiles and the supply and management of major brand products into the world market.

Safety in Textiles

Oeko-Tex certification indicates products which have been tested for harmful substances. If all components of a textile comply with the requirements of the Oeko-Tex criteria catalogue without exception, the textile manufacturer receives certification and is entitled to use the Oeko-Tex logo to identify products.

In order to ensure ongoing compliance with the test criteria, the authorised Oeko-Tex Institute carries out control tests every year. Therefore, the Oeko-Tex label is your best proof for the safety of textile products.
